

Pat, our Chairman, has been advised by her doctor to rest up for a while. We wish her well and look forward to welcoming her back when the time is right.

LAST MONTH'S SOCIAL EVENT

Outside the weather was wild, blustery and lashing down, while inside Over with Nether Compton it was heads down, ears cocked as the teams strove to identify the voices of famous Shakespearean actors in the 'I know that voice..' audio quiz.

It a hard fought contest just one point claimed victory for the Adrian Thorpe, Tony Gregory and Ed Oaksford team who each received fridge magnets bearing quotations from Shakespeare plays. Adrian also picked up another prize in a free raffle: a double CD set from which the audio extracts for the quiz had been taken.

Poetry Please

Tony Gregory leads another of his hugely entertaining 'Poetry Please' evenings on Tuesday 11th November at 7.30 pm in Over and Nether Compton Village Hall.

Tony has put together an evening both inspiring and through-provoking. The date has some significance.

After the mid-evening break, members will be offered the opportunity to read their favourite poems.

FUTURE SOCIAL EVENTS

What promises to be a fascinating evening is 'A Brief History of Christmas Entertainment' presented by Michael Bantz at 7.30 pm on Wednesday 3rd December in Over and Nether Compton Village Hall.

With the shops already filling up with Christmas goods and fare, it's none too soon to make a date in your diary right now for our Christmas Party which will be on Friday 12th December at The Cider House, Over Compton, home of Adrian and Miyoko Thorpe. Look out for more exciting details next newsletter.

REMINDER

you would like a lift or are able to take others to any of our events in Nether Compton Village Hall, please get in touch with one of the Committee

The Love of Four Colonels

OUR SPRING PRODUCTION

'When We Are Married' J B Priestley's brilliant comedy set in Yorkshire in 1900. There will be a 'Club' evening run-through play-reading in Over and Nether Compton Village Hall at 7.30 pm on Friday 28th November.

"I hope as many people as possible come to the read-through. The play's a hoot!"

Auditions will be held on 3 evenings at 7.30 pm on Monday 15th, Wednesday 17th and Thursday 18th December to give everyone a chance to come and give their all! I know this is very soon after the run of 'The Love of Four Colonels' but production dates are very early in March, finishing Sat 14th - so much to be sorted out before Christmas, and we'll be starting rehearsals early in January. The auditions will all be held at Jim's Reville's house: The Chantry on Marston Road [814626] - just around the corner from Jennie's. For cast and character descriptions see Page 3.

OTHER EVENTS

Hi Jinx Theatre presents 'The Other Woman' at Gillingham School at 8 pm on 6th November. Set on a hill farm in South Wales during the First World War, the play explores the struggles of Megan Watkins, a young mother alone in an isolated farmhouse when her husband goes off to war.

The Other Woman explores the events that develop when a young conscientious objector arrives at the farmhouse, seeking refuge. When Meg agrees to help him by disguising him as Mary Anne, her cousin from Cardiff, she has no idea of the difficulties that will unfold when her husband returns from the front. For bookings call 01747 833844.

FAMOUS NAMES OF THE STAGE

Double Oscar-winner actor Sir Peter Ustinov, was one of Britain's most respected actors. He made his first stage debut in 1938 at 17 in 'The Wood Demon'. He went on to star in over 50 films such as Spartacus, Death on the Nile and Topkapi, as well as many TV shows. Despite his screen success, he continued to write for the theatre. His play 'The Love of Four Colonels' was first performed in London in 1951, before enjoying a long run in the United States where it was named Best Play of the Year by the New York Drama Critics Circle. He was famed as a raconteur and was also an ambassador for UNICEF. He died in 2004 aged 82 in Switzerland.

The Winslow Boy

Last year's Theatre Day at Salisbury proved very popular with the 25 members who went to see 'The Herbal Bed', so your Committee has decided to arrange another trip in 2009 on Thursday 12th February.

The play will be Terence Rattigan's 'The Winslow Boy'. Based on a real case, this compelling drama is a deeply moving story of passion and politics. On the eve of the First World War, cadet Ronnie Winslow is expelled from Osborne Naval College, accused of stealing a five-shilling postal order. The legal battle to clear his name provokes a national outcry, which affects the lives of all involved, and the price of justice becomes an ever-heavier burden.

IN THIS MONTH

The Broadway premiere of Eugene O'Neill's masterpiece Long Day's Journey Into Night, a semi-autobiographical account of his troubled homelife, took place in November 1956. In the opening scene the lead character, James Tyrone, a retired actor, declares "Land is land, and it's safer than the stocks and bonds of Wall Street swindlers." Not a lot changed since then, some might say.

A GLOSSARY OF THEATRE TERMS

Dark Night -

The night before opening when no rehearsal is scheduled so the actors and crew can go home and get some well deserved rest, and instead spend the night staring sleeplessly at the ceiling because they're sure they needed one more rehearsal

Bit Part -

An opportunity for the actor with the smallest role to count everybody else's lines and mention repeatedly that he or she has the smallest part in the show.

Green Room -

Room shared by nervous actors waiting to go on stage and the precocious children whose actor parents couldn't get a baby-sitter that night, a situation which can result in justifiable homicide

Dark Spot -

An area of the stage which the lighting designer has inexplicably forgotten to light, and which has a magnetic attraction for the first-time actor. A dark spot is never evident before opening night.

Hands -

Appendages at the end of the arms used for manipulating one's environment, except on a stage, where they grow six times their normal size and either dangle uselessly, fidget nervously, or try to hide in your pockets

Stage Manager -

Individual responsible for overseeing the crew, supervising the set changes, baby-sitting the actors and putting the director in a hammerlock to keep him from killing the actor who just decided to turn his walk-on part into a major role by doing magic tricks while he serves the tea

Lighting Director -

Individual who, from the only vantage point offering a full view of the stage, gives the stage manager a heart attack by announcing a play-by-play of everything that's going wrong

Makeup Kit -

(1) Among experienced community theatre actors, a battered tackle box loaded with at least 10 shades of greasepaint in various stages of desiccation, tubes of lipstick and blush, assorted pencils, bobby pins, braids of crepe hair, liquid latex, old programmes, jewellery, break-a-leg greeting cards from past shows, brushes and a handful of half-melted cough drops
(2) For first-time male actors, a helpless look and anything they can borrow

The Forebrain -

The part of an actor's brain which contains lines, blocking and characterisation; activated by hot lights
