APS newsletter December 2011

“A superb production! Well done APS!”

From Peter Wheeldon our NODA rep: “Thank the Players for a most enjoyable evening of theatre and congratulate all involved in the production of 'Our Town'. Great credit is due to the entire cast of thirty seven players who performed so well in establishing and maintaining the emotionally-charged atmosphere throughout the play. Given more space, all the prime characters would be worthy of mention here, but perhaps a few special words for the fine performances from the young leads Annabelle Fricker and Josh Hart, as Emily and George, around whom the narrative is woven. A word too for Lights and Sound whose timely interventions added markedly to the effect. This was a truly splendid production with which the Players can be well pleased. Definitely a triumph for Jennie, her talented cast and her production team. A superb production! Well done APS!”

And from Gay Pirrie-Wear in the Blackmore Vale Magazine:

“It is a very American play, and Jennie Ward and her cast captured its spirit.

Congratulations also to Mark Lambert, whose inspired and excellent sound effects added enormously to the atmosphere of the piece - all perfectly operated even to the rattling of the milk bottles.

Outstanding in the large cast were Annabelle Fricker and Josh Hart as Emily Webb and George Gibbs, with Caroline Hart as Mrs Gibbs, Christine Yardley's effervescent Mrs Soames and the younger members of the company enjoying their chance to demonstrate fine American accents and mime convincingly throughout.

Charles Napier's Stage Manager is going to be a hard performance to better, filled with compassion, wit wisdom and enough interest to keep the packed audience on tenterhooks for the next revelation.”

Up front

from your Chairman

As we approach Christmas there is much to celebrate that has happened since September. I would like to thank Adrian for leading a stimulating play reading and to Charles for his work in acquiring charity status for APS. As you read this news should be in that this status has been granted.

Then there is the wonderful production of 'Our Town' so ably directed by Jennie. I must admit to having been sceptical of the play but the end result was fantastic. It was so good to see new people involved and it was a privilege to admire the work of new young actors in lead roles.

Now we look forward to the next production of 'The Wyrld Sisters' and wish good luck to Sylvie Lord for her casting and future rehearsals. It is exciting to be doing something very different even if it is based on well known ideas.

I would like to take this opportunity to wish you all a very Happy Christmas and New Year. Unfortunately, I will not be at the party since I have business in France over that weekend.

I look forward to a challenging and fulfilling 2012 for our society.

Stuart McCreddie

Wishing you all
Happy Holidays

The play is Noel Coward's witty and passionate 1930s comedy 'Design for Living'.

The cost. Theatre Day at 11.30 am is £7, the play at 2.30 pm is £14 = £21 per head plus rail fare of approx £7 - to be confirmed.

Bookings must be confirmed and payment - £28 - made to David by Sunday 4th December. Anyone using their own transport need, of course, pay only £21.

Everything's coming up Roses at our Christmas Party Friday 9 December

It kicks off at 7.30 pm, at The Cider House, Over Compton, home of our generous hosts, Adrian and Miyoko Thorpe. Cost £5 - pay at the door - includes food and your first drink. Subsequent drinks at APS prices. This year's theme is "Roses" with a prize for the best outfit. Bring KFS, bowl and plate. Glasses provided. The Cider House is directly opposite Trencherman's at Over Compton. Parking in the courtyard for those with walking difficulties and essential deliveries - food and drink. Parking available along the wall outside and in St Michael's Church car park on the other side of the church.

'Tell a Tale of Pantomime' Thurs 19 January 7.30 pm Club Room Bernard Tinker, who has written and directed many pantomimes for amateur groups, will talk about aspects of the history of pantomime, stock characters, developing storylines and devices. There will be use of short DVD clips to illustrate the talk.

It's got our name on it
The raising high of our sign on the Old Chapel marks the final act that places us firmly and very obviously on the Sherborne map. Many thanks to Mark Lambert.

NOISES OFF

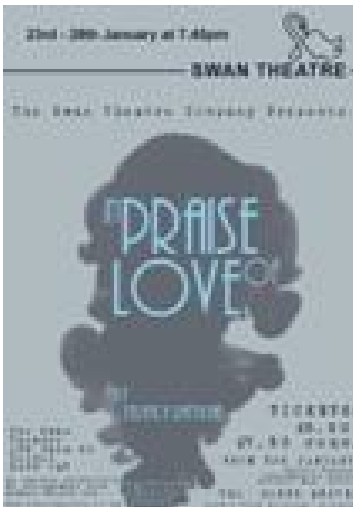

Many thanks to those members who took up the challenge of coming up with a new title for our monthly newsletter. The number of suggestions reached well into double figures.

The term 'Noises off' is used as a stage direction referring to sounds created offstage during a play's production and intended for the ears of the audience.

Next newsletter out early January 2012.

RATTIGAN'S 'IN PRAISE OF LOVE' ON AT THE SWAN

Rattigan's penultimate play and inspired by the true life relationship between Rex Harrison and Kay Kendall is the Swan's first production of 2012.

For more than twenty years Sebastian and Lydia Crutwell have endured a marriage of cold hearts and restrained emotions. Lydia, an Estonian refugee and recently diagnosed with a terminal illness, seems unable to shake off thoughts of her traumatic past. Reserved and unemotional, Sebastian is seemingly preoccupied with his failed writing career and is permanently at odds with their son, Joey. Lydia contrives to keep her illness secret from her husband, unaware that he is fully in the picture and is mirroring her deception. A romantic history exists between Lydia and a fourth player, American Mark Walters. Over the course of two evenings, a series of heartbreaking revelations changes the façade of Lydia and Sebastian's relationship forever and we wonder what the future will hold now that the brittle truth is exposed.

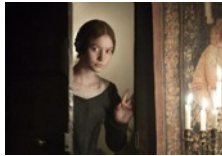

Underneath the façade we discover not cracks but a deep and touching breadth of mutual feeling which we were perhaps not expecting.

It's on from Monday 23rd to Saturday 28th at 7.45 pm. Tickets available from 3rd January 01935 462781 www.swan-theatre.co.uk

READ THE BOOK, SEE THE FILM

"Reader, I liked it. This Jane Eyre, energetically directed by Cary Joji Fukunaga from a smart, trim script by Moira Buffini, is a splendid example of how to tackle the daunting duty of turning a beloved work of classic literature into a movie. Neither a radical updating nor a stiff exercise in middlebrow cultural respectability, Mr. Fukunaga's film tells its venerable tale with lively vigor and an astute sense of emotional detail. Ms. Wasikowska is a perfect Jane for this film and its moment. New York Times

NEW HARDY PLAYERS HONOUR NORRIE'S LAST REQUEST

Norrie Woddhall, president of the New Hardy Players and who died in October aged 105, had asked that they perform "The Woodlanders" for their 2012 summer production.

Norrie was the last living person to have known and spoken to Thomas Hardy. She was the last of the Hardy Players, who, with Thomas Hardy's blessing, formed in 1908 to perform plays based on his novels. Her 100th birthday request was that the Hardy Players be reformed. Thus the birth of the New Hardy Players.
